

History Bee 101

This course is designed to introduce the basics of International Academic Competition's National History Bee through interactive learning and competitive games. Each week, students will be learning different historical periods of the United States, starting from early American settlements and progressing through the Civil War to Modern America. During the final week, students will participate in an online buzzer round that mimics a real History Bee competition. By the end of this course, students will gain a deeper understanding of US history and the rules of History Bee, equipping them the skills to excel in competitions. 适合5-8年级学生
